

THE “GENEROUS” ISRAELI OFFER

At Camp David II, Ehud Barak, then Prime Minister of Israel, made what was alleged to be a “generous offer” to the Palestinians as a final status agreement. Here’s the deal.

Let’s say you get all the land in Santa Barbara. But there’s a catch: we keep sovereign control over all the streets, roads and highways. This way, at our whim, we can keep you from going to work, going to the store, to the mall, to church, keep your kids from going to school, keep you from going to the hospital whether an emergency or not. Basically, you get a lot of land but we maintain complete control of your life.

Such a deal. Remember, this is a deal for the rest of your life. Maybe the Palestinians are smarter than we thought in rejecting this “generous” offer.
